

Starting page, where user enters his/her name and is saved as a cookie.

The main game's page where the user is greeted with a message and information about the game
Below the main game window. Two difficulties can be selected, each with different rules.

Once a difficulty is selected, the game starts and characters begin falling from the top of the window

If the user loses 10 lives, the game is over and this screen appears, user has the option to retry.

